Tactics on the Chess Board

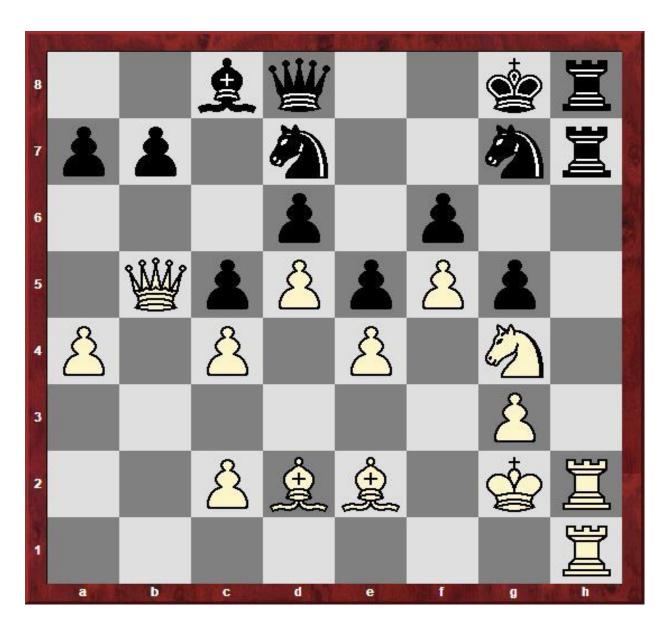

The following two puzzles involve a forcing sequence of moves leading to a winning advantage for white.

See if you can spot what white needs to do to get an advantage and try to find the most forcing initial move.

Look out for sacrifices when assessing what to do.

When you solve the puzzle, play out the game from white's winning position for practice.

White to move

White to move

Hint

Black can play Re5 as a defence for a number of possibilities open to white.